Bow Lake Transfer Station

Effective March 16, 2009:

ALL RECYCLING SERVICES CLOSED

For duration of multi-year transfer station renovation project

Includes: Basic Recycling (cardboard, paper, cans, bottles, etc.) & Appliance Recycling. Space is needed for construction activities.

The Bow Lake station must be rebuilt to meet current building and environmental standards, improve safety and operational efficiencies, accommodate projected future growth in the region, and increase recycling opportunities. The renovation project is expected to last until late 2011 or early 2012. See back page for planned improvements.

Planned improvements to the Bow Lake transfer station:

- An expanded recycling collection area, including a separate yard waste area
- A new transfer building with larger, easier-to-use waste unloading areas, which will reduce customer wait times
- A new site layout that will improve on-site traffic flow
- Improved waste compaction that will improve operational efficiency and reduce the number of transfer trailer trucks that enter and leave the station
- Sustainable building design features that will improve energy efficiency and result in lower life cycle costs than in a conventional building design
- Environmental enhancements to the stormwater and wastewater systems
